MARY KARON MEMORIAL AWARD FOR HUMANITARIAN CONCERNS

PRESENTED TO

THE DIRECTORS AND PRODUCERS OF MEDICATING NORMAL

This award is being presented to the directors and producers of the feature film, Medicating Normal, who toiled for years pulling together information about the harmful effects of traditional psychiatric treatment and the shocking stories of five psychiatric patients who were led down a path of destruction by that treatment. Because of their deep devotion to this project, the film received international acclaim as its message, and the serious questions it raises about the current mental health system, spread across the globe and touched the hearts and minds of a multitude of people who would have otherwise suffered the same fate as those portrayed in the film. This project has been a huge boost to our efforts at increasing public awareness of the dangers of the orthodox system. Their keen interest in alleviating the suffering of others makes the directors and producers of Medicating Normal more than worthy of receiving this year's Mary Karon Memorial Award for Humanitarian Concerns.

Awarded October 30, 2022
